Our unique Bona Natural coating combines the look and feel of oiled or waxed wooden floors with easy maintenance, making natural looking wood parquet floors accessible to many more customers.

Our unique Bona Natural treatment preserves the natural look of any wooden floor while providing long-term protection. Bona Natural is the next generation of surface treatment, it overcomes consumers' concerns about maintenance and helps you sell more natural-looking parquet floors.

With Bona Natural, the wood retains its feel as well as its looks: the treatment is virtually invisible and preserves the wood's surface texture, so there is no coated effect. A natural-looking low gloss (5-9) completes the results.

Bona Natural provides a high level of protection against abrasion, staining and chemicals, and is virtually maintenance-free. You can rectify minor damage quickly and easily with practically seamless spot repairs. And you can combine Bona Natural freely with colours from our Bona colour system, enabling endless variation to match any interior design. It is little wonder that Bona Natural has captured the imaginations of architects, specifiers and design-conscious consumers around the world.

- Creates the look & feel of natural wood
- Appeals to design conscious consumers
- Compatible with all Bona stains and colours
- Long-term protection against abrasion, staining and chemicals
